Road Slaughter Runs High at Start of 1966

Ohio, Nation Both Count Heavy Toll During Holiday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The new year started the way the old one ended on Ohio roads — with an appalling slaughter.

The New Year's Day toll of Saturday revealed the huge New Year's Eve tally that closed out 1965, and only moderation Sunday kept the 78-hour weekend count from exceeding Christmas time's record slaughter a week earlier.

By the time Sunday midnight finally rolled around — for the survivors — at least 46 persons had been killed since 6 p.m. Thursday. Ohio's total was the nation's highest through most of the period.

The Christmas weekend total was 50.

State safety officials had predicted 54 fatalities for the two weekends combined.

The national picture was no better.

The death toll in traffic was 562, and late reports were expected to raise the final figure even higher.

The record toll passed last New Year's traffic death count of 474 early Sunday. The lowest toll for any New Year's holiday since World War II was 269 during the three-day period of 1949-1950.

The New Year deaths, however, were still far short of the all-time holiday traffic death count of 720 set during the three-day Christmas period.

An Associated Press survey of a non-holiday weekend of the same length as the New Year holiday showed 420 deaths in traffic. The survey was made from 6 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 9, to midnight Sunday, Dec. 12.

The National Safety Council said the final toll for the New Year weekend could reach 600 if the death pace did not slacken. Before the start of the holiday period, the council had estimated between 360 and 440 persons would be killed during the 78 hours between 6 p.m. (local time) Thursday to midnight Sunday.

A safety council statement of the New Year record said, "It's clear that the nation can't depend on mere horror to terrify drivers into safe highway behavior."

Safety officials also said that there was little comfort that the New Year's toll was less than the Christmas toll, since fewer persons travel on the year-end holiday.

New Year's was the sixth holiday period in recent months to set a national record for traffic deaths.

In addition to Christmas, the 1965 Thanksgiving, Labor Day, Fourth of July and Memorial Day weekends established records for long weekend observances of 1965 holidays.

The Thanksgiving holiday period cost 615 lives, Labor Day 564, July Fourth 551, and Memorial Day 474.

Fanfani Hearing Is Called Off

ROME (AP) — A special legislative commission session to hear Amintore Fanfani's explanation of his role in a purported Hanoi peace feeler was called off today.

The meeting of the Chamber of Deputies Foreign Affairs Commission had been called for Jan. 5, while Fanfani still was Italy's foreign minister.

He resigned Dec. 28 amid a storm of controversy over the report of a peace bid which he passed on to President Johnson from his friend Giorgio La Pira, former mayor of Florence. Hanoi later disavowed the reported overture.

The Communists, who had demanded the commission session, withdrew their questions to the government after Fanfani's resignation.

MOVING'S FOR THE BIRDS — Pickaway County Agricultural Extension office personnel today were in the process of moving their headquarters in the Farm Bureau Building, 159 E. Main St., to the Dr. Edwin S. Shane property, 137 W. Franklin St. The site was recently purchased by the Pickaway County Board of Commissioners. George Hamrick (left), holding a stuffed owl, tells secretary Weta Mae Leist and James Helt, 4-H agent, that "moving is for the birds."

Lloyd Melvin Board Chief; 1965 Termed Productive

Lloyd Melvin, veteran councilman, was re-elected chairman of Pickaway's Board of Commissioners during today's annual reorganizational session.

Melvin, now serving a second four-year term, will assume the same commission

LLOYD MELVIN executive post he held during 1965. He was re-named to the job by fellow councilmen Charles Morris Jr. and Wayne Hines. The organization meet was highlighted by a joint commission declaration that 1965 turned out to be a productive year for the county lawmaking body. This, members of the board asserted, resulted despite frequent disagreements and numerous instances of being at odds on various issues of the day.

The three solons agreed that accomplishments had been made although conflicts of opinion did exist from time to time. Looking back over events that at times became heated, they termed the year one of progress and search for equitable solution.

COMMISSIONER MORRIS pointed out that numerous items of business "hanging in the fire" had been brought to a conclusion. Primary among these was the purchase of the Heine home on E. Mount St. and the Shane property on W. Franklin as a means of expanding county government office facilities. Morris said the purchases were made at a minimum cost to the county in view of state and federal aid, especially in acquisition of the Heine residence as future headquarters for the County Welfare Department.

The lawmakers also made mention of the county jail basement improvement project. This step allowed Sheriff Dwight Radcliff to move his offices out of the Courthouse and provide more space there.

According to the Commission, these new sites provide relief from ever increasing "growing pains" at the Courthouse. Previous moves for expansion of the Courthouse itself never materialized, although expenditures were made for plans and specifications to this effect.

Closing of the County Home for the Aged was rated as another accomplishment by the solons, especially economy-wise. They noted that operation of the institution required a yearly budget of about $40,000, plus periodical special appropriations.

Residents of the home are now cared for in private nursing homes, with federal and state aid provided in certain cases. This assistance was not available while the county operated the home.

MORRIS said approximately 23 miles of county roads were surfaced with T-35 material, considered about four times more than in any other year. The commissioners said they hope to place more emphasis on bridge improvements this year. (Continued on Page 2)

Bethlehem Steel Faces U.S. Boycott

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration sources hint the government may reduce its purchases of structural steel framings from the Bethlehem Steel Corp. if the firm refuses to withdraw a $5-a-ton price boost — an increase which Bethlehem claims is not inflationary.

So far, no other steel firms have followed Bethlehem's move for higher prices. President Johnson has called the increase unwarranted and said it could lead to inflation.

But Edmund F. Martin, chairman of second-ranking Bethlehem, said in a statement Sunday night the three-day-old price hike was a result of product improvements that enable lighter-weight steel to do heavier jobs.

"After the price adjustments," Martin said, "the cost of equivalent steel framing for structures will be less than five years ago. This is not inflationary."

Government sources indicated Sunday that a cutback of federal purchases from Bethlehem may be forthcoming if the company refuses to withdraw its increases. The government now consumes about 25 per cent of the total output of structural steel shapes.

The sources said the administration feels that if other major steel firms can be convinced to raise prices, Bethlehem will rescind its boost.

Peace Efforts Pushed Despite Red Rebuffs

U.S. Moves Said Trickery

Yank Envoys Are Still Trying

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two of President Johnson's peace envoys continued their efforts today despite new dampening blasts from Hanoi.

The North Vietnamese Communist party organ Nhan Dan branded the current U.S. peace moves as "trickery" and said that if any political solution to the Viet Nam war is to be achieved the United States must halt "definitely and unconditionally" all acts of war against the North.

The Hanoi newspaper also said Washington would have to acknowledge the four conditions the Communists have set down for an end to the war. What was meant by "acknowledge" was not immediately clear. Washington has let it be known that it would be willing to discuss the four points of negotiations got under way.

U.S. efforts to get such talks started moved ahead with roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman's arrival in Pakistan for talks with President Mohammed Ayub Khan while G. Mennen Williams carried the American view to African leaders.

As the flurry of American diplomatic activity continued, the lull in the bombings of North Viet Nam targets moved into its 11th day.

The bombing moratorium is viewed as a part of Washington's efforts to establish conditions favorable to the beginning of peace talks with North Viet Nam.

The public reaction from Hanoi was anything but encouraging. Only hours before the party organ Nhan Dan made its declarations North Viet Nam's President Ho Chi Minh had declared that the Communists would fight until final victory.

He said he was standing firm on his terms for peace — terms already rejected by the United States.

Ho's views were in messages to the Japanese newspaper Asahi Shimbun and to a Havana meeting of leftists from three continents. The message suggested anew that Hanoi would agree to negotiate only after the United States accepts its four-point demand, which includes withdrawal of American troops from South Viet Nam. Bus Driver Sounds Alarm of Fire

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Flames were pouring from the top of a three-story apartment building on Pittsburgh's North Side.

It was 8 a.m. Sunday and no one was about. But police said a bus driver bound from Pittsburgh to Detroit spotted the fire.

John C. Olliffe of suburban Pittsburgh, a Greyhound bus driver for 29 years, stopped his bus, gave an alarm and then raced through the building waking up more than a score of residents.

No one was injured. Damage was estimated at $15,000.

Ohio State Student Ends Vigil Church

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Charles R. Strain, 23, of Duquesne University and John Robinson, 28, of Ohio State University have concluded a 7-day vigil dramatizing their wish for peace in Viet Nam.

The two graduate students took seats in St. Paul's Roman Catholic Cathedral Christmas Day and left the sanctuary New Year's Day, subsisting only on bread and water. They didn't suffer any ill effects.

Poverty Grant OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Office of Economic Opportunity has announced a $25,529 grant for antipoverty project development to the Tri-County Community Action Committee (Hocking, Athens and Perry counties).

Gradual Peace Process Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson did a lot of personal soul-searching before deciding to launch a Viet Nam peace offensive.

Johnson, who returned to the White House Sunday night after a 13-day stay at his Texas ranch, was described by close associates as having spent many hours reviewing and revising before beginning his peace moves.

The President's stance became more evident during the weekend when White House sources disclosed he is prepared to enter peace talks without preconceived solutions or the thought of a quick settlement.

They said the President is willing to seek gradual step-by-step progress — much as occurs in domestic politics when public officials seek to resolve differences on such questions as civil rights.

Johnson's views, as relayed to newsmen, indicated that he concluded, in rethinking his position on Viet Nam, that the United States could do more to promote peace.

For example, he was said to blame himself and his administration for what he regards as a failure to convince Hanoi and Peking of American sincerity in seeking a settlement.

The sources said he thought this country's earlier peace efforts had been handicapped by unwillingness to state the government's position in credible terms.

Moreover, he was described as feeling that propagandists on both sides had so obscured the basic issues that, at this point, it is difficult to tell where either side stands.

Perhaps the most surprising attitude attributed to Johnson was a view that, should his administration end now, history would judge him harshly because of Viet Nam.

Sources said it was not accidental that the summary of his views included references to failures reminiscent of his language in a telephone address to the AFL-CIO convention Dec. 9 in which he mentioned failings, failures and shortcomings.

It was in that speech that Johnson said he was "determined that every prospect for peace be exhausted before other hard steps are taken" in Viet Nam.

Heavy Snow Hits Northwest

Upper Great Lakes Area Also Lashed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy, drifting snow closed schools and highways in portions of the Pacific Northwest today while a storm that lashed the upper Great Lakes region Sunday bore down on New England.

Idaho officials shooed all but emergency vehicles off 250 miles of roads between Moscow and the tiny ski resort village of McCall Sunday as falling snow made travel impossible.

Resort owners said about 500 college students were trapped in McCall, crowding as many as eight to a room with little hope of making classes today.

Highway patrolmen at Yreka and Weed in North California halted some 200 vehicles because of snow, allowing through only those equipped with chains.

The Great Lakes storm dumped up to 8 inches of snow on northern Wisconsin and Minnesota before moving east.

Snow and ice made driving a nerve-racking chore for football fans bound from Milwaukee and Chicago to Sunday's National Football League championship game in Green Bay, Wis. Police said traffic was backed up for six miles near Oshkosh at one point.

The first significant snowfall left 4 to 5 inches on the ground at Minneapolis-St. Paul.

Early this morning, the storm had moved far enough east to dump 4 inches of snow on Boston and 3 on Albany, N.Y. Forecasters predicted continuing snow, sleet, freezing rain and rain through the morning.

A blast of freezing arctic air knifed through Montana, dumping 3 inches of snow on Great Falls Sunday night.

Rain washed over Kentucky and Ohio over the holiday weekend, and by today 10.2 inches had fallen at Hickman, Ky., on the Mississippi River.

NAACP President Steps Down at 87

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Arthur B. Spingarn has stepped down as president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in favor of a younger man.

The board of directors may name his successor today after the organization's annual session.

Spingarn, president for 28 years, resigned Sunday night to make way for a "younger and more energetic president."

Spingarn, 87, walked about two miles Sunday night from his Gramercy Park home to the New York Hilton where 500 persons gathered for the annual NAACP dinner.

HHH Says 'We Defend Others as Well as Selves'

HONOLULU (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey returns home today after a journey through the Far East where the war past and present seemed to blend.

Humphrey stood in a cemetary in the hills above Honolulu where dead of World War II, Korea and Viet Nam lie buried. Only a short drive away men wounded in Viet Nam lie in an Army general hospital.

It is like that in the Pacific — the old battles running into the new.

On another stop, Humphrey saw ships destined for Viet Nam sailing at anchor in Manila harbor with the island of Corregidor and Bataan looming on the horizon.

Speaking at the University of Hawaii Sunday, Humphrey said that since World War II "the United States has suffered 175,000 casualties."

"We did not ask for war in Korea. We have not sought war in Berlin. We have not sought war in Cuba. We have not sought war in Viet Nam."

But, Humphrey added, "We have been called to the defense of others as well as to our selves."

Americans do not want to have it written, he said, that "we were the warriors of the 20th Century."

Rather, he said, it should be written that the Americans were educators.

Humphrey was confronted by a band of demonstrators carrying signs reading "End the war in Viet Nam" and "Peace in Viet Nam."

He told his audience at the university ceremony where he received an honorary degree, "I hear people say we want peace in Viet Nam. I'll say we do."

"If you have any influence in Hanoi, use it. If you have any influence in Peking, use it."

Humphrey said he observed in the Far East "a growing recognition that the problems of Asia in a very real sense must be solved by Asian leadership."

But he said he found in the areas he visited clear recognition that "the shield of American power is essential for their peaceful progress and development."

Bethlehem Steel Faces U.S. Boycott

U.S. Moves

In Peking, the official Chinese Communist party paper People's Daily assailed the American diplomatic missions. It said "monsters and freaks of all descriptions are scurrying hither and thither and raising a lot of dust with their sinister activities." It added the United States "is merely spreading a smokescreen to conceal its preparations for war expansion."

One of the most extensive of the diplomatic missions ends today with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's return to Washington. He visited the capitals of Japan, the Philippines, Nationalist China and South Korea during the past week.

Stopping off Sunday in Honolulu, Humphrey declared that U.S. emissaries had fanned out all over the world seeking "the key to peace."

Commenting on the bombing lull, the vice president said some people had urged that the strikes be stopped to bring the North Vietnamese to the peace table. "It stopped," he said, "the table is there."

While Humphrey spoke in Honolulu of U.S. peace efforts, Pope Paul VI told a crowd in Vatican City's St. Peter's Square that he had prayed for the help of heaven in his new appeals for mediation and an end of conflict in Viet Nam.

The Pope said, "We feel the scantiness of our humble and unarmored efforts, strong only in the human and Christian reasons which inspire them, but weak in the face of the enormous difficulty which they seek to overcome."

"Once again the help of heaven is necessary, and for this our diplomacy — if it can so be called — is integrated in great measure with prayer."

American diplomatic efforts were at a busy pace Sunday in Africa and India. Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, conferred in Algiers with Col. Houari Boumediene, Algerian chief of government. Williams later told newsmen the meeting was very satisfactory. He then headed for Tunisia, with later steps scheduled in other African countries.

Harriman followed a whirlwind pace in New Delhi. He spent 40 minutes with Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri, 44 with President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan and 45 with Foreign Minister Swarn Singh. After meeting today with Ayub, Harriman planned to fly on to Tehran for a conference with the Shah of Iran.

Ontario Port Chalks Record for Tonnage

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP) — The port of Hamilton has set a cargo tonnage record for the sixth consecutive year with more than 10 million tons moved in 1965.

Joseph Lanza, chairman of the Hamilton harbor commissioners, said the final tally for the year is not yet complete but the total was at least 913,000 tons more than the 1964 record. It was also the largest increase since the St. Lawrence Seaway opened in 1959, he said.

Unordered Merchandise Is Subject of Probe

NEW YORK (AP) — State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz says his office has received a "virtual avalanche of complaints" about unordered merchandise received during the Christmas season by residents of the New York City metropolitan area.

He said the complaints had prompted him to order a study "as to what action might be taken to ban this racket in New York State."

News of World in Brief

SITKA, Alaska (AP) — A $3.5 million fire destroyed an estimated 50 per cent of the business district of this historic southeastern Alaska town Sunday, including the 121-year-old Greek-Russian Orthodox Cathedral of St. Michael.

"We can rebuild St. Michael's Cathedral," said Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, after flying here from Juneau, the state capital, with Gov. William A. Egan.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department reports that world farm production last year increased by 1.5 per cent over 1964 and the production of food goods increased by 1 per cent.

But those gains, the department said in its annual survey, were offset by a population gain of 2 per cent. Because of this, the report said, the per-capita food supply was estimated at 100 per cent of the 1957-59 average, down 1 per cent from 1964.

The report said production rose faster than population in only two areas — the Western Hemisphere and Western Europe.

The United States per-capita supply was 104 per cent of the 1957-59 base average.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Business will be better than ever for many American businesses this year, says the Commerce Department.

J. Earl Pratt Seeks Seat on Appeals Court

J. Earl Pratt, Lawrence County attorney, announced today that he will be a candidate in the May primary election for the Republican nomination as judge of the Fourth District Court of Appeals.

The 15-county judicial district includes Pickaway. Judge William Ammer of Pickaway County Common Pleas Court has already announced his candidacy for the GOP nomination in May. These are the only two candidates to date for the nominations.

Pratt was a candidate in the 1964 primary for the same office, but lost to Gordon Gray, Athens. Gray won the election at the polls in November and is now serving as one of the three judges on the district court.

The Lawrence County attorney lives in South Point, near Ironton. He attended Rio Grande College and was graduated from National University Law School in Washington D. C. in 1924.

Ontario Port Chalks Record for Tonnage

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP) — The port of Hamilton has set a cargo tonnage record for the sixth consecutive year with more than 10 million tons moved in 1965.

Joseph Lanza, chairman of the Hamilton harbor commissioners, said the final tally for the year is not yet complete but the total was at least 913,000 tons more than the 1964 record. It was also the largest increase since the St. Lawrence Seaway opened in 1959, he said.

Unordered Merchandise Is Subject of Probe

NEW YORK (AP) — State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz says his office has received a "virtual avalanche of complaints" about unordered merchandise received during the Christmas season by residents of the New York City metropolitan area.

He said the complaints had prompted him to order a study "as to what action might be taken to ban this racket in New York State."

In Peking, the official Chinese Communist party paper People's Daily assailed the American diplomatic missions. It said "monsters and freaks of all descriptions are scurrying hither and thither and raising a lot of dust with their sinister activities." It added the United States "is merely spreading a smokescreen to conceal its preparations for war expansion."

One of the most extensive of the diplomatic missions ends today with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's return to Washington. He visited the capitals of Japan, the Philippines, Nationalist China and South Korea during the past week.

Stopping off Sunday in Honolulu, Humphrey declared that U.S. emissaries had fanned out all over the world seeking "the key to peace."

Commenting on the bombing lull, the vice president said some people had urged that the strikes be stopped to bring the North Vietnamese to the peace table. "It stopped," he said, "the table is there."

While Humphrey spoke in Honolulu of U.S. peace efforts, Pope Paul VI told a crowd in Vatican City's St. Peter's Square that he had prayed for the help of heaven in his new appeals for mediation and an end of conflict in Viet Nam.

The Pope said, "We feel the scantiness of our humble and unarmed efforts, strong only in the human and Christian reasons which inspire them, but weak in the face of the enormous difficulty which they seek to overcome."

"Once again the help of heaven is necessary, and for this our diplomacy — if it can so be called — is integrated in great measure with prayer."

American diplomatic efforts were at a busy pace Sunday in Africa and India. Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, conferred in Algiers with Col. Houari Boumedienne, Algerian chief of government. Williams later told newsmen the meeting was very satisfactory. He then headed for Tunisia, with later steps scheduled in other African countries.

Harriman followed a whirlwind pace in New Delhi. He spent 40 minutes with Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri, 44 with President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan and 45 with Foreign Minister Swarn Singh.

After meeting today with Ayub, Harriman planned to fly on to Tehran for a conference with the Shah of Iran.

News of World in Brief

SITKA, Alaska (AP) — A $3.5 million fire destroyed an estimated 50 per cent of the business district of this historic southeastern Alaska town Sunday, including the 121-year-old Orcek-Russian Orthodox Cathedral of St. Michael.

"We can rebuild St. Michael's Cathedral," said Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, after flying here from Juneau, the state capital, with Gov. William A. Egan.

Man Cited After Gun Is Found

Circleville Police arrested a Columbus man early Saturday at a dance at the Pickaway Fairgrounds Coliseum for carrying a concealed weapon.

Ronald Lee Genheimer, 23, is being held in lieu of $1,000 bond set today by Municipal Judge Sterling M. Lamb. A preliminary hearing will be held Jan. 11 in the city court.

Patrolman Larry Pontious was called to the Coliseum by an off-duty Columbus policeman, employed by the group sponsoring the dance to maintain order.

The officer said he searched Genheimer and two other Columbus men when they entered the dance and discovered the weapon.

He immediately notified local authorities.

The World's Refugees

There are nearly 10 million refugees in the world. The United Nations Committee for Refugees says the numbers of these homeless have increased by two million within the last year. In Viet Nam, there are 600,000 refugees from war-stricken villages, and they are expected to number a million within weeks.

There are 695,000 refugees in Africa. Europe's refugee problem is declining, but this year 10,000 escaped from certain countries.

The committee, a private, non-profit group, makes a terrible prophecy:

"We are only at the beginning of a massive, new and terrible period in this troubled 'Century of the Homeless Man.' We are only beginning to see the awful consequences in human terms of inter-communal, inter-tribal and international strife."

Average Hospital Stay Trimmed

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The average hospital stay has been cut from 14 days in 1955 to 7.7 days now. At present prices, most patients can't afford to be sick any longer than that.

Greeks usually celebrate New Year's Eve by playing cards, and do their elbow bending on other nights of the holiday period.

In Hungary the name Zyzyst is almost as common as goulash.

Pianos are getting more colorful. You can now buy keyboards in eight pastel tints.

There's no fuel like an old fuel. Coal is believed to have been first used by the Chinese about 3,500 years ago. Today it takes a ton of coal to make a ton of steel.

The American Indians are at the bottom of the U.S. economic totem pole. The average reservation family has an annual income of only $1,500 and unemployment runs about 50 percent, more than 10 times the national average.

History lesson: Few U.S. presidents were noted for their musical accomplishments. Exceptions: Thomas Jefferson and John Tyler played the violin.

Calvin Coolidge the harmonica, Warren G. Harding the cornet, and Harry S. Truman the piano.

If someone tells you he's suffering from keraunophobia, don't waste too much sympathy. He's just afraid of lightning.

The government is getting more helpful all the time. For example, the U.S. Department of Agriculture recommends packing breakable items in popcorn for shipping through the mails. The popcorn gives better protection than wadded paper.

Fun in cells: The prison publication, "Mountain Echoes," published by inmates of Manitoba Penitentiary, has an entertainment editor.

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt
Central Press Writer

Owners of fine, old British residences have been told by an authority to treat tourists, who pay to visit their homes, courteously. That's right — when you're in show biz the cash customer is boss.

In other words, the needy aristocrats are advised to act like gentlemen — even if they aren't.

Mexico City authorities have decided to keep that community's Christmas tree lights burning until mid-January. Wonderful! — now if only the people's Yule spirit will keep pace!

Because they were staging an unauthorized strike, the Birkhead, England, Municipal Transport Committee fired 600 bus drivers. Got their walking papers, as it were.

Soviet Antarctic scientists announce sighting the biggest iceberg on record — an 87-mile-long job. First thing you know, they'll be claiming they invented it.

The trouble with some politicians who fail to get elected is that they tried so frantically to attract the public eye they only attracted the public ire.

Folklore: If you have company on Monday you'll have company the rest of the week. A bride married in a blue gown will have a husband who'll always stay true. The nosebleed is a sign of lovesickness. To get rid of warts rub them with a bean and then bury it — and when the bean sprouts the warts will go away.

Worth remembering: "Middle age is when the narrow waist and the broad mind begin to change places."

Medical note: At least 13 out of every 100 adult Americans has some form of heart ailment. Quips from our contemporaries: Pianist George Shearing was once asked whether he had been blind all his life. "No," said the 45-year-old musician. "Not yet." — Catholic Digest.

Quickies: Some turtles lay up to 200 eggs at a time. Pepper is one spice that never deteriorates. Eight signers of the U.S. Declaration of Independence were born in the British Isles. In case anyone's interested, there's a place called Pigs Ear in Pennsylvania.

Chances for Good Peace

By John Chamberlain

If, in their inscrutability, the North Vietnamese can be brought to meaningful negotiations, Lyndon Johnson could be the first President since William McKinley to win a peace conference. A consummation such as this would make 1966 a real miracle year.

The chances are, of course, that, if the war is to end, it will dribble out, much as the war in Korea did. "Fight, fight, talk," is a well-tested Oriental formula, and the talk doesn't necessarily have to be pushed to a hard-and-fast decision, western style. We have never really made peace in Korea, and our soldiers stand there on guard to this day. There could very well be a marathon "peace" confabulation over Vietnam lasting for years, if not decades, provided the balance of power in Southeast Asia comes to an uneasy stand-off, with neither side willing to press for a victory.

But if there is to be a real decision, or series of decisions, what are the chances that the United States, which has been a patsy at every recent conference table, will be able to come home with a good settlement? It was Will Rogers who said we never lose a war nor win a peace conference. If historical precedent means anything, the Viet Cong will get the type of peace that will enable them to take over by the traditional Communist tactics of "infiltration, polarization and liquidation." This is what happened in northern Laos, in Cuba, in Czechoslovakia and elsewhere any time the Communists managed to get control of the more sensitive posts in a government.

Negotiations, however, are carried out by men, and Lyndon Johnson's character is by no means similar to the character of his more immediate predecessors in the White House. Woodrow Wilson, who gave his consent to a bad settlement at Versailles in order to get his League of Nations, was an idealogue and a moralist who had a great capacity for self-delusion. Franklin D. Roosevelt was a man who didn't mind imprecision; he had a sanguine belief that he could wangle what he wanted out of people without tying them up by contract. He failed at Yalta, partly because he was still struggling against a nagging illness, and partly because he had spent his leisure hours studying maritime history instead of Marxism. Harry Truman was plunged into the intricacies of Potsdam before he had had a chance to take Stalin's measure.

As for Ike Eisenhower, he accepted the dribble solution in Korea, which was probably the best he could do after Truman's failure to give MacArthur his head. Ike's stamina in negotiation was never really tested. As a general, Ike had acquired in Ambassador John Winant's theory that uncontested ground access to West Berlin was unimportant, and he had failed to beat the Russians to the Elbe or to permit General Patton to remain in Prague.

But Ike had his orders from his superiors in Washington, and it was his to do or die in the Europe of 1945, not to reason why. Generals are like that, and in a democracy it is lucky that they are. Otherwise they might take us all prisoners.

Compared to all these previous peacemakers Lyndon Johnson is toughness and certainty personified. Like Wilson, he can talk the language of idealism, and I do not doubt that he means what he says when he says it. But he also counts the vote before it is taken, and he would never have bumped head-on into the first Henry Cabot Lodge, as Wilson made the mistake of doing. It is also difficult to imagine him being conned by Clemenceau or Lloyd George. Like Roosevelt, Johnson can get along without signing his adversary to a contract. But when LBJ foregoes a contract, it is only when he knows something that his adversary doesn't want known, or has something in reserve to give or withhold from him at a later date. And, unlike Truman at Potsdam, Johnson has had plenty of time to meditate on the character of Communists. He most certainly does not trust Mao Tse-tung, who is the manipulator behind Ho Chi Minh.

Finally, Johnson is a profoundly political personage who wants to win in 1968. He must know that if the Communists take over in South Vietnam and proceed to crumble the inner defenses of Thailand, the Republicans would have a Grade-A, 14-karat, dyed-in-the-wool issue with which to scourge him out of the White House. If there is going to be a peace conference, and not merely a dribble-type end to the war, LBJ has got to get terms that will preserve the integrity of South Vietnam, or else.

And Johnson has never in his life voluntarily accepted an "or else."

The World's Refugees

There are nearly 10 million refugees in the world. The United States Committee for Refugees says the numbers of these homeless have increased by two million within the last year. In Viet Nam, there are 600,000 refugees from war-stricken villages, and they are expected to number a million within weeks.

There are 695,000 refugees in Africa. Europe's refugee problem is declining, but this year 10,000 escaped from certain countries.

The committee, a private, non-profit group, makes a terrible prophecy:

"We are only at the beginning of a massive, new and terrible period in this troubled 'Century of the Homeless Man.' We are only beginning to see the awful consequences in human terms of inter-communical, inter-tribal and international strife."

Average Hospital Stay Trimmed

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The average hospital stay has been cut from 14 days in 1953 to 7.7 days now. At present prices, most patients can't afford to be sick any longer than that.

Greeks usually celebrate New Year's Eve by playing cards, and do their elbow bending on other nights of the holiday period.

In Hungary the name Zyzzyx is almost as common as goulash.

Pianos are getting more colorful. You can now buy keyboards in eight pastel tints.

There's no fuel like an old fuel. Coal is believed to have been first used by the Chinese about 3,500 years ago. Today it takes a ton of coal to make a ton of steel.

The American Indians are at the bottom of the U.S. economic totem pole. The average reservation family has an annual income of only $1,500 and unemployment runs about 50 percent, more than 10 times the national average.

History lesson: Few U.S. presidents were noted for their musical accomplishments. Exceptions: Thomas Jefferson and John Tyler played the violin. Calvin Coolidge the harmonica. Warren G. Harding the cornet, and Harry S. Truman the piano. If someone tells you he's suffering from keratophobia, don't waste too much sympathy. He's just afraid of lightning.

The government is getting more helpful all the time. For example, the U.S. Department of Agriculture recommends packing breakable items in popcorn for shipping through the mails. The popcorn gives better protection than wadded paper.

Can Parkinson's disease be cured? What causes it?

Parkinson's disease, or paralysis agitans (shaking palsy) is a disorder of the brain and the central nervous system. One of its distinctive characteristics is a tremor of the hands. There is a steady rubbing motion of the fingers and the thumb described as a "pill-rolling" tremor. Its name originated from the motion with which paramedics once hand-rolled pills.

With Parkinson's disease, comes a rigidity of the muscles of the face and an absence of expression during any emotion. In most instances the exact cause of this condition is unknown. A special type of Parkinsonism sometimes follows an attack of encephalitis or brain infection.

Unfortunately the cure of this nerve disturbance has not responded well to routine drugs. During the past decade a new operation has been devised and is being performed with remarkable success in many cases.

When the operation is successful, it once again permits these courageous patients to function without the handicap of the shaking tremor.

What is meant by a seven-day virus?

A seven-day virus is less distinctive than a four-day virus, which is less fashionable than a two-day virus. All three of these are less impressive than "walking pneumonia," "Q virus," or the most recent one, the Watusi virus.

For some strange reason, such created names are thought to give greater importance to the cold than its lowly descriptive name "common."

Virus infections are a very special kind of illness that is never guessed at, but rather recognized by signs and symptoms of importance only to the physician.

Because a fashionable "x virus" is traveling through the community does not suggest that "it too will pass" with complete neglect.

What can the doctor tell by looking at the patient's tongue?

The tongue is very often a reliable indication of some kind of illness. Grandmothers have always used the appearance of the tongue as an index of their medical wisdom. Many times they were remarkably right.

Some diseases show a characteristic change in the tongue. A raspberry colored tongue is often seen during scarlet fever. Fine tremors occur with thyroid disorders and some nerve conditions. The surface of the tongue indicates drug reactions and fungus infection by special discolorations.

In pernicious anemia and nutritional disturbances changes in the tongue may be one of the earliest signs. The moisture of the tongue is used by the physician as a good guide to the fluid balance of the body.

The tongue indeed is a great help in diagnosis.

There is an art in being a good patient to a good doctor. This valuable relationship is solidified by complete confidence.

Bookkeeping Service Is Established

A new bookkeeping and income tax service has been established at 120 S. Court St. by Ronald L. Melvin, a Circleville native.

The new enterprise offers complete bookkeeping services such as the systematic recording of routine transactions for efficient summarizing, preparing and filing state sales tax and other special reports, as well as federal income tax forms.

Melvin, a 1951 graduate of Circleville High School, served in the Army in Germany and graduated from Ohio State University in 1959 with a major in accounting.

He worked for the C. F. Replogle Co. during college and continued after graduation in various accounting positions. Next, he was employed by the federal government as a senior auditor for 3½ years. His last position was as chief accountant for Technology Inc., a Dayton firm conducting aerospace research for the government.

Melvin recently completed a two-day farm tax management school sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service.

Melvin and his family reside in the Elsie Addition on the Kingston Pike and are members of Trinity Lutheran Church.

Castro Starts New Year With Anti-U.S. Bombast

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

Fidel Castro begins 1966, and the eighth year of his revolution, with an anti-Yankee extravaganza, probably in hopes of regaining some of the prestige he has lost since the missile crisis of 1962.

A "tricontinental anti-imperialist conference" opens in the Cuban capital today. It may not have been Castro's idea originally, but he seized on it when it was broached and offered Havana as host city.

Only pedigreed "anti-imperialists" — which means these days, in Communist parlance, anti-Americans — have been invited from Asia, Africa and Latin America to speak their pieces and pass resolutions condemning Uncle Sam Communists of various stripes, from pro-Moscow to pro-Peking, have been converging on Cuba for the show. The conference is of "anti-imperialist organizations" rather than of nations as such.

Castro, however, seems likely to run into the same problem which plagued the abortive Asian-African conference, scheduled first for last June and then for November in Algeria. That project shattered on the rocks of the Soviet-Chinese dispute. The Chinese said the Russians were not Asians and should "not be allowed to crash the gate."

The preparatory committee for the Havana meeting decided that the Russians should be invited as Asians. The Chinese have let Castro know they didn't like that.

If the world Communist quarrel breaks out in Havana, Castro may be embarrassed. Already he is being prodded by two forks of a dilemma: The Russians on one side nagging him to rationalize his economy and his revolution, and the violence-minded pro-Peking Communists annoyed with his inability to export revolution in sufficient quantities to the rest of Latin America.

The advertised purpose of the tricontinental conference is to help "the struggle for complete national liberation" in the underdeveloped world. In Communist parlance, liberation means communism.

Both Russians and Chinese endorse this, but the Russians would like to call the shots. They show no inclination to pursue such an aim in a way which could produce a new showdown with the United States. Quiet subversion, parliamentary struggle, popular fronts and the like will do, if other methods are unsafe. The Russians seem in less of a hurry than the Chinese.

The church here is being sponsored by the State Home Mission Board of the Freewill Baptist Church. There are churches of the denomination in Columbus, Chillicothe and Springfield, totaling 101 in Ohio.

Here is a schedule of services: Sunday School, 10 a. m.; Worship, 11 a. m.; Evening Worship, 7:30 p. m.; Wednesday, 7:30 p. m. prayer meeting.

Pastor Young has been at Fort Recovery since April of 1961, where he served as pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church of Fort Recovery and St. James Lutheran Church of Salomonia, Ind.

The parish at Canton is a young mission congregation with a membership of around 600. The present structure is one-third of the eventual construction. A sanctuary and fellowship hall have been constructed and are being used. An educational unit and office space is to be added in the near future.

Economists Optimistic about '66

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Economists were optimistic about the prospects for 1966 as the new year arrived. But there were some reservations.

Business zoomed at a record pace in 1965, and if all goes well the boom will enter its sixth year next March.

Biggest question mark is the war in Viet Nam. If it continues at its present pace or escalates, the demand on business for supplies will be immense. If peace materializes, there will be cutbacks in government spending.

Inflation is another cloud on the economic horizon. The consensus of economists seems to be that the danger isn't too great but they point to continually rising costs of living and a possible labor shortage.

Two dozen economists surveyed by the Wall Street Journal almost unanimously agree that the economy will continue to expand in 1966 but at a slightly lesser rate than in 1965.

They predict that consumers, corporations and local, state and federal governments will spend more in 1966.

But they warn that the threat of inflation will worsen and the balance-of-payments deficit will probably grow.

The economists forecast that (NP) — total of all goods and services — will climb to about $710 billion, a 6 per cent gain over the 1965 NP. This would be just below the 6.5 per cent increase in for 1964-65.

They expect consumer prices, on the average, to rise about 2 per cent in 1966, compared with 1.2 per cent in recent years.

The National Planning Association was even more optimistic, predicting that the NP would go to $716 billion, up $4 billion from 1965.

The organization suggested that the Johnson administration's problem will be to find and pursue an economic policy "equally concerned with supporting continued growth on the one hand and preventing a inflationary price rise on the other."

The Labor Department reported that living costs, rising at the fastest rate in seven years, climbed another two-tenths of one per cent in November.

The consumer price index advanced to 110.6, meaning that it cost $110.6 to purchase items worth $100 in the 1957-59 base period.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss ... and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that is not only stopping hair loss ... but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair ... now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren
It's Dynamite, Lady!

DEAR ABBY: I have a 15-year-old son who is a good boy, an honor student and has many friends. One young couple (his age) come here several nights a week and use my parlor for a lover's lane. These kids sit in the dark, hugging and kissing for hours. I am sure their parents don't know that this goes on. Once I heard the girl tell her mother on the phone that she was at a party with "a bunch of kids" at my son's house. (No one was here but her and her boy friend and my son, who stayed upstairs studying most of the time.) I am a widow and am invited out occasionally, but I don't like to leave those kids alone in my house. What should I do, Abby? Tell my son to ask his friends not to come over any more? Or should I tell them? Should their parents be told?

UNDECIDED
DEAR UNDECIDED: If you refuse the kids the use of your parlor, you'll only force them to find another rendezvous. Here is an excellent opportunity to help two youngsters who desperately need it. They are playing with dynamite and need to be warned against the dangers of too much togetherness charged up with natural emotions. If you can't (or won't) counsel these kids, then you'd be doing them a favor by telling their parents. Enlightenment is in order here, not punishment.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow who plans to remarry in March. I have two teen-age sons who will keep their father's name as I feel they are too old to be legally adopted by my new husband and thereby take his name as I will. It always seems so strange to me when children do not have the same name as their mother. Would it be proper for me to keep my children's father's name (say it was Brown) and then add my new husband's name (say it was Smith)? I would then be Mrs. Brown - Smith, and therefore have something in common with my children's name.

NAME PROBLEM
DEAR NAME: No, it is not proper for you to keep your husband's name, even though your children will retain it.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please permit me to sound off about a matter that is becoming increasingly disgusting? Tight pants for boys and men. It was bad enough when women started pulling those stretch things over their posteriors, revealing every curve. But these skin-tight pants for men are the limit. To add to the problem, the cuffs are so narrow that they can't get the pants on or off without taking their shoes off. The days of buying a growing boy a pair of trousers with a little room for him to "grow into them" has passed. When they buy pants brand new, they are so tight-fitting that if the kid gains six ounces he can't get the pants back on with a crow bar. I won't even mention how terrible I think they LOOK. Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

It's Dynamite, Lady!

DEAR ABBY: I have a 15-year-old son who is a good boy, an honor student and has many friends. One young couple (his age) come here several nights a week and use my parlor for a lover's lane. These kids sit in the dark, hugging and kissing for hours. I am sure their parents don't know that this goes on. Once I heard the girl tell her mother on the phone that she was at a party with "a bunch of kids" at my son's house. (No one was here but her and her boy friend and my son, who stayed upstairs studying most of the time.) I am a widow and am invited out occasionally, but I don't like to leave those kids alone in my house. What should I do, Abby? Tell my son to ask his friends not to come over any more? Or should I tell them? Should their parents be told?

UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: If you refuse the kids the use of your parlor, you'll only force them to find another rendezvous. Here is an excellent opportunity to help two youngsters who desperately need it. They are playing with dynamite and need to be warned against the dangers of too much togetherness charged up with natural emotions. If you can't (or won't) counsel these kids, then you'd be doing them a favor by telling their parents. Enlightenment is in order here, not punishment.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow who plans to remarry in March. I have two teen-age sons who will keep their father's name as I feel they are too old to be legally adopted by my new husband and thereby take his

Alabama Rated Top Choice as National King

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gary Beban, a gambling, scrambling sophomore quarter-back, and tenacious defender Bob Stiles.

Joe LaBruzzo, a chunky little line-buster.

And Steve Sloan, a spectacular marksman.

Those were the headlines as UCLA, Louisiana State and Alabama humbled college football's Big Three in a sensational string of bowl games New Year's Day.

Peban led the attack and Stiles performed magnificently on defense in UCLA's 14-12 upset of top-ranked Michigan State in the Rose Bowl. LaBruzzo was the back of the game as LSU topped second-ranked Arkansas 14-7 in the Cotton Bowl, ending the Razorbacks' winning streak at 22 games. And Sloan was a record-smashing passer in sparking Alabama over third-ranked Nebraska 39-28 in the Orange Bowl.

Each of the losers went into the post-season classic with a 10-9 record — and it was a sure-shot bet that one of them would wind up as national champion.

But Saturday's surprises changed all that and Alabama, which was ranked No. 4 after an 8-1-1 regular season, must rate the leading contender for the title off its domination of Nebraska's massive Cornhuskers. The championship will be decided in The Associated Press' poll of experts, with results announced Tuesday.

In another post-season thriller Saturday, Missouri withstood the passing artistry of Steve Spurrier and edged Florida 20-18 in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans.

Beban scored both UCLA touchdowns, was an ever-dangerous running and passing threat, and quarterbacked the Bruins superbly. Stiles was a defensive standout all day, particularly in clutch situations. He intercepted two passes, setting up a TD on one with 42-yrd return, and helped pull down Bob Apisa short of the goal when the Michigan State full-back went for the tying two-point conversion attempt in the closing seconds.

UCLA stunned the heavily favored Spartans with two second quarter touchdowns and Kurt Zimmerman kicked the vital extra points. Michigan State got its two scores in the final period, but failed on two tries for two-point conversions.

LSU also scored its 14 points in the second quarter, overcoming a 7-0 lead held by the favored Razorbacks in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas. LaBruzzo, a 5-foot-9 halfback, rammed over twice from the one for the Tigers, carrying four straight times from the Arkansas 16 for his first touchdown and three times from the five for his second.

Sloan was an amazing sharpshooter as 'Bama ran off from Nebraska in their night game at Miami's Orange Bowl. Although hampered by a torn rib cartilage suffered in the opening period, he hit on 20 of 25 passes for 296 yards and two touchdowns. Ray Perkins caught 10 passes for the Crimson Tide, two for TDs.

Sloan's 20 completion s and 296 yards and Perkins' 10 catches were Orange Bowl records.

Missouri went into the last quarter against Florida with a seemingly comfortable 20-0 lead, but Steve Spurrier made it edgy for the Tigers. He threw for two touchdowns and scored another in the final period — but the stirring comeback proved futile for the Gators as they failed on two point pass attempts after each touchdown. Spurrier tried 45 passes and

Ohio Collegiate Cagers Shoot for Loop Crowns

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Now that holiday tournament competition is out of the way, Ohio's college basketball teams can settle down to the business of shooting for conference titles.

League warfare begins in earnest this week. Ohio State catches Big Ten champion Michigan at St. John Arena Saturday afternoon; surging Cincinnati (8-1) has two Missouri Valley contests on the road and there's full state of activity in the Mid-American Conference.

The Buckeyes (5-4) have not been impressive in non-conference competition but could get a strong psychological boost with a victory over the hot-and-cold Wolverines.

Cincinnati showed it will be a prime contender in the Missouri Valley with a pair of one-sided conquests last week over Utah and Wake Forest.

Miami and Ohio University were pre-season co-favorites in the MAC and nothing happened late in 1965 to change that picture much. Western Michigan rates a darkhorse role in the seven-team loop.

Akron and Otterbein, both 4-0 in the sprawling 15-member Ohio Conference, appear likely improving Wittenberg expected to be a serious challenger. Bluffton and Ashland are atop the Mid-Ohio Conference with 2-0 marks.

Youngstown (9-0) and Akron (7-0) are the only unbeaten Buckeye schools but the Penguins put their winning streak on the line Saturday at Niagara.

Central State (7-1), Youngstown, Findlay (7-2), and Steubenville (7-2) look like the best of the small school independents.

Dayton (8-1) dropped its first of the young campaign last week in a tough 77-75 loss to Maryland in the finale of the Sugar Bowl Classic. The Flyers night and visit once-beaten DePaul Saturday.

Other top attractions this Tuesday: Central State at Wittenberg.

Wednesday: Bowling Green at Toledo; Miami at Kent; Ohio University at Western Michigan.

Thursday—Cincinnati at North Texas State.

Saturday—Michigan at Ohio State; Bowling Green at Western Michigan; Kent at Marshall; Toledo at Miami, Akron at Marietta; Otterbein at Mount Union; Cincinnati at Tulsa; Dayton at DePaul; Xavier at Marquette; Youngstown at Niagara.

Ohio's 'Horse of Year' Is None Other than Bret

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Bret Hanover completed a sweep of harness racing honors with the announcement that the world champion 3-year-old pacer has been voted Ohio Harness Horse of the Year.

Owner Richard Downing of Shaker Heights will receive the coveted award here Tuesday night.

Previously voted Harness Horse of the Year nationally and winner of national Three-Year-Old-Pacer of the Year laurels, Bret Hanover received 152 first-place votes out of 191 ballots cast. With points tabulated on a 3-2-1 basis, the pacing colt earned 481 points.

Trailing in second place but strongly supported was Tuxedo Hanover with 14 first-place votes and 80 second-place ballots. His point total was 217. Owned by Dale Miller of Tipp City and J.E. Martin of Troy, Tuxedo Hanover was second to Bret Hanover in the Little Brown Jug and several other important stakes during the past season.

True Duane, owned by Richard Oldfield of Sylvania, was a distant third but still a fine showing for a two-year-old. Skipper Gene, owned by Marshall Hettinger and Earl Bell, was fourth, and Tamarack Farm's Combat Time was fifth. A total of 55 horses received connected on 27 — both Sugar Bowl records — gaining 352 yards through the air.

In Friday's post-season action — sophomore Lenny Snow ran for 136 yards, leading Georgia Tech over Texas Tech 31-21 in the Gator Bowl; Texas Western upset Texas Christian 13-12 in the Sun Bowl; and Tod Hulla of Washington tossed three scoring strikes as the West beat the East 22-7 in the Shrine game at San Francisco.

mention on at least one ballot as the state's horsemen found it difficult to decide among the many classy Ohio standard-breds.

Ohio's annual U.S. Trotting Assn. membership business meeting will be held Tuesday at 3 p.m. in the Neil House before moving to the Sheraton-Columbus for the awards banquet at 6:30 p.m.

Stanley F. Bergstein, director of Harness Racing Institute and executive secretary of Harness Tracks of America, will be featured speaker at the USTA dinner.

Among those to be honored will be Robert Farrington, the nation's leading race winning driver and the only America ever to win more than 500 dashes in a sea son. Farrington, from Richmond, won 312 in 1964, and 310 this past season. He will receive the U.S. Trotting Association's national dash winning trophy.

Top drivers at each of Ohio's pari-mutuel raceways also are slated to receive plaques.

William B. Murray of Willington is unopposed for re-election to a three-year term on the UST Board of Directors. Ohio directors are USTA national president Walter J. Michael of Bucyrus, Corwin Nixon of Lebanon, McKinley Kirk of Washington C.H., and Wayne Smart of Delaware.

Green Bay's Old Folks Set Pace In Gaining Grid World Championship

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung, the old folks of the Green Bay Packers, have risen to the challenge of the $850,000 bonus twins, Donny Anderson and Jim Grabowski.

The pair of 30-year-old Packers backs toted the heavy load Sunday in the snow, rain and fog while the old-fashioned ball control game carried the Packers to the National Football League title on a 23-12 victory over Cleveland's defending champions before 50,852 damp fans at Lambeau Field.

"Just a couple of oldtimers trying to hang on," chorused Taylor and Hornung laughingly in the Green Bay clubhouse.

Taylor, named the most valuable player in the game, carried 27 times for 96 yards. Hornung, the former Golden Boy of the pack, carried 18 times for 105 yards, including one beautiful 34-yard run and a 13-yard ramble on the old Green Bay touchdown sweep.

Ball control did the job for the Packers, a strategy dear to the heart of Coach Vince Lombardi.

"You have to control the ball against the Browns if you are going to beat them," said Lombardi. "We planned to stick to the basics. Yes, I think there is a little spark left yet in Jimmy and Paul."

Lombardi probably provided some of the spark when he signed Anderson, the fabulous Texas Tech halfback for a reported $600,000 and Grabowski, Illinois' record-breaking full-back, for a reported $250,000.

Taylor and Hornung aren't about to step aside for the rookies.

"Donny is going to be a great one," said Hornung, who was instrumental in getting Anderson to sign with the Packers. "I took him out in Baltimore and talked to him."

Asked if the high-priced rookies were going to elbow their way into the starting line up next fall, Hornung said: "We'll wait and see about that next year."

Neither Anderson nor Grabowski was present since they are playing in the Hula Bowl in Honolulu.

Bart Starr, a doubtful starter all week because of the back bruises he suffered in the Western Conference playoff game with Baltimore, called a great game for Green Bay and completed 10 of 18 passes for 147 yards and one touchdown. His TD pass was a 47-yarder to Carroll Dale for the first score of the game.

"Starr called a great game," said Lombardi. "It was a tough day to throw. The ball was slippery, and the receivers couldn't make good cuts."

Lombardi wasn't kidding. It was a miserable day in Packerland. About 3½ inches of snow fell during the morning, and it snowed and rained intermittently during the afternoon as the temperature hovered around 33 degrees.

Yeoman work by the city sanitation department and a crew of youngsters brushed the snow off the tarpaulin so the field was playable by game time. Despite the snow and ice there were no fumbles, and each team scored its first TD on a pass.

Starr hit Dale on the 47-yard score at 3:52 of the first quarter, and Cleveland came right back with a touchdown on a 17-yard pass from Frank Ryan to Gary Collins.

A bad break ruined the

Browns' game plan following that first TD. John Morrow's pass from center was off line and fumbled by Bob Franklin, holding the ball for kicker Lou Groza.

Groza picked it up and fired a desperation forward pass to Franklin, who was caught on the 5-yard line by Willie Wood. Instead of a 7-7 tie, the Browns trailed 7-6.

Groza, the 41-year-old field goal artist who has been playing pro ball since 1946 had made 96 straight conversions until this one was messed up. A few minutes later he kicked a 24-yard field goal that gave Cleveland a 9-7 edge.

Don Chandler, kicking hero of the sudden-death playoff game at Baltimore, booted a 15-yarder early in the second and a 23-yarder later in the quarter after Wood intercepted a Ryan pass and ran it back from the Cleveland 25 to the 10.

Despite Groza's 28-yard field goal in the dying seconds of the half, after Walt Beach had intercepted a Starr pass, the Browns trailed 13-12 at the half.

Green Bay's inspired defense rose to the occasion in the second half and blanked the Browns, shutting out the fabulous Jim Brown who made only 50 yards on 12 carries and scored no touchdowns during the afternoon.

Ray Nitschke did a tremendous job on Brown when he ran and when he went down field as a pass receiver.

The Packers ground it out in the second half, controlling the ball. They moved 90 yards in 11 plays, eating up six minutes, 48 seconds, for a third-period TD scoring on Hornung's 13-yard sweep around left end.

"That really killed us," said Brown after the game. "They adjusted to the conditions. We couldn't. Those two guys (Taylor and Hornung) really did a great job."

Trailing 20-12 in the third period, the Browns got close enough to try for a field goal, but Henry Jordan broke through and blocked Groza's kick. Just a few seconds earlier Nitschke and Wood had broken up a Ryan pass to Brown in the end zone.

Green Bay, setting a record with its ninth league championship, ran 69 offensive plays to 39 by Cleveland. The Packers gained 332 yards over-all to 161 and outgained the Browns on the ground 204 to 64.

Chandler's three field goals tied a title game record shared by six others, including Hornung, Groza and Jerry Kramer.

It was a particularly satisfying triumph for the Packers, who floundered in midseason with offensive headaches and needed help from the Chicago Bears to catch Baltimore.

The NFL announced no financial figures, but the victory figured to be worth about $7,000 to each Packer. Each Brown will get about $4,600 as a losing share from the gate receipts and the $720,000 of television money that went into the pot.

Each of the losers went into the post-season classic with a 10-9 record — and it was a sure-shot bet that one of them would wind up as national champion.

But Saturday's surprises changed all that and Alabama, which was ranked No. 4 after an 8-1-1 regular season, must rate the leading contender for the title off its domination of Nebraska's massive Cornhuskers. The championship will be decided in The Associated Press' poll of experts, with results announced Tuesday.

In another post-season thriller Saturday, Missouri withstood the passing artistry of Steve Spurrier and edged Florida 20-18 in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans.

Beban scored both UCLA touchdowns, was an ever-dangerous running and passing threat, and quarterbacked the Bruins superbly. Stiles was a defensive standout all day, particularly in clutch situations. He intercepted two passes, setting up a TD on one with 42-yrdd return, and helped pull down Bob Apisa short of the goal when the Michigan State fullback went for the tying two-point conversion attempt in the closing seconds.

UCLA stunned the heavily favored Spartans with two second quarter touchdowns and Kurt Zimmerman kicked the vital extra points. Michigan State got its two scores in the final period, but failed on two tries for two-point conversions.

LSU also scored its 14 points in the second quarter, overcoming a 7-0 lead held by the favored Razorbacks in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas. LaBruzzo, a 5-foot-9 halfback, rammed over twice from the one for the Tigers, carrying four straight times from the Arkansas 16 for his first touchdown and three times from the five for his second.

Sloan was an amazing sharpshooter as Bama ran off from Nebraska in their night game at Miami's Orange Bowl. Although hampered by a torn rib cartilage suffered in the opening period, he hit on 20 of 25 passes for 296 yards and two touchdowns. Ray Perkins caught 10 passes for the Crimson Tide, two for TDs.

Sloan's 20 completion and 296 yards and Perkins' 10 catches were Orange Bowl records.

Missouri went into the last quarter against Florida with a seemingly comfortable 20-0 lead, but Steve Spurrier made it edgy for the Tigers. He threw for two touchdowns and scored another in the final period — but the stirring comeback proved futile for the Gators as they failed on two point pass attempts after each touchdown. Spurrier tried 45 passes and

Ohio Collegiate Cagers Shoot for Loop Crowns

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Now that holiday tournament competition is out of the way, Ohio's college basketball teams can settle down to the business of shooting for conference titles.

League warfare begins in earnest this week. Ohio State catches Big Ten champion Michigan at St. John Arena Saturday afternoon; surging Cincinnati (8-1) has two Missouri Valley contests on the road and there's full state of activity in the Mid-American Conference.

The Buckeyes (5-4) have not been impressive in non-conference competition but could get a strong psychological boost with a victory over the hot-and-cold Wolverines.

Cincinnati showed it will be a prime contender in the Missouri Valley with a pair of one-sided conquests last week over Utah and Wake Forest.

Miami and Ohio University were pre-season co-favorites in the MAC and nothing happened late in 1965 to change that picture much. Western Michigan serves a darkhorse role in the seven-team loop.

Akron and Otterbein, both 4-0 in the sprawling 15-member Ohio Conference, appear likely improving Wittenberg expected to be a serious challenger. Bluffton and Ashland are at the Mid-Ohio Conference with 2-0 marks.

Youngstown (8-0) and Akron (7-0) are the only unbeaten Buckeye schools but the Penguins put their winning streak on the line Saturday at Niagara. Central State (7-1), Youngstown, Findlay (7-2), and Steubenville (7-2) look like the best of the small school independents.

Dayton (8-1) dropped its first of the young campaign last week in a tough 77-75 loss to Maryland in the finale of the Sugar Bowl Classic. The Flyers night and visit once-beaten DePaul Saturday.

Other top attractions this Tuesday: Central State at Wittenberg.

Wednesday: Bowling Green at Toledo; Miami at Kent; Ohio University at Western Michigan.

Thursday—Cincinnati at North Texas State.

Saturday—Michigan at Ohio State; Bowling Green at Western Michigan; Kent at Marshall; Toledo at Miami, Akron at Marietta; Otterbein at Mount Union; Cincinnati at Tulsa; Dayton at DePaul; Xavier at Marquette; Youngstown at Niagara.

Ohio's 'Horse of Year' Is None Other than Bret

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Bret Hanover completed a sweep of harness racing honors with the announcement that the world champion 3-year-old pacer has been voted Ohio Harness Horse of the Year.

Owner Richard Downing of Shaker Heights will receive the coveted award here Tuesday night.

Previously voted Harness Horse of the Year nationally and winner of national Three-Year-Old Pacer of the Year laurels, Bret Hanover received 152 first-place votes out of 191 ballots cast. With points tabulated on a 3-2-1 basis, the pacing colt earned 481 points.

Trailing in second place but strongly supported was Tuxedo Hanover with 14 first-place votes and 80 second-place ballots. His point total was 217. Owned by Dale Miller of Tipp City and J.E. Martin of Troy, Tuxedo Hanover was second to Bret Hanover in the Little Brown Jug and several other important stakes during the past season.

True Duane, owned by Richard Oldfield of Sylvania, was a distant third but still a fine showing for a two-year-old. Skipper Gene, owned by Marshall Hettlinger and Earl Bell, was fourth, and Tamarack Farm's Combat Time was fifth.

A total of 55 horses received connected on 27 — both Sugar Bowl records — gaining 352 yards through the air.

In Friday's post-season action — sophomore Lenny Snow ran for 136 yards, leading Georgia Tech over Texas Tech 31-21 in the Gator Bowl; Texas Western upset Texas Christian 13-12 in the Sun Bowl; and Tod Hulin of Washington tossed three scoring strikes as the West beat the East 22-7 in the Shrine game at San Francisco.

mention on at least one ballot as the state's horsemen found it difficult to decide among the many classy Ohio standardbreds.

Ohio's annual U.S. Trotting Assn. membership business meeting will be held Tuesday at 3 p.m. in the Neil House before moving to the Sheraton-Columbus for the awards banquet at 6:20 p.m.

Stanley F. Bergstein, director of Harness Racing Institute and executive secretary of Harness Tracks of America, will be featured speaker at the USTA dinner.

Among those to be honored will be Robert Farrington, the nation's leading race winning driver and the only America ever to win more than 500 dashes in a season. Farrington, from Richmond, won 312 in 1964, and 310 this past season. He will receive the U.S. Trotting Association's national dash winning trophy.

Top drivers at each of Ohio's pari-mutuel raceways also are slated to receive plaques.

William B. Murray of Wellington is unopposed for reelection to a three-year term on the UST Board of Directors. Ohio directors are USTA national president Walter J. Michael of Bucyrus, Corwin Nixon of Lebanon, McKinley Kirk of Washington C.H., and Wayne Smart of Delaware.

Chilean Submarine At Philly Shipyard

Green Bay's Old Folks Set Pace In Gaining Grid World Championship

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung, the old folks of the Green Bay Packers, have risen to the challenge of the $850,000 bonus twins, Donny Anderson and Jim Grabowski.

The pair of 30-year-old Packer backs toted the heavy load Sunday in the snow, rain and fog while the old-fashioned ball control game carried the Packers to the National Football League title on a 23-12 victory over Cleveland's defending champions before 50,852 damp fans at Lambeau Field.

"Just a couple of oldtimers trying to hang on," chorused Taylor and Hornung, laughingly in the Green Bay clubhouse.

Taylor, named the most valuable player in the game, carried 27 times for 96 yards. Hornung, the former Golden Boy of the pack, carried 18 times for 105 yards, including one beautiful 34-yard run and a 13-yard ramble on the old Green Bay touchdown sweep.

Ball control did the job for the Packers, a strategy dear to the heart of Coach Vince Lombardi.

"You have to control the ball against the Browns if you are going to beat them," said Lombardi. "We planned to stick to the basics. Yes, I think there is a little spark left yet in Jimmy and Paul."

Lombardi probably provided some of the spark when he signed Anderson, the fabulous Texas Tech halfback for a reported $600,000 and Grabowski, Illinois' record-breaking fullback, for a reported $250,000.

Taylor and Hornung aren't about to step aside for the rookies.

"Donny is going to be a great one," said Hornung, who was instrumental in getting Anderson to sign with the Packers. "I took him out in Baltimore and talked to him."

Asked if the high-priced rookies were going to elbow their way into the starting line up next fall, Hornung said: "We'll wait and see about that next year."

Neither Anderson nor Grabowski was present since they are playing in the Hula Bowl in Honolulu.

Bart Starr, a doubtful starter all week because of the back bruises he suffered in the Western Conference playoff game with Baltimore, called a great game for Green Bay and completed 10 of 18 passes for 147 yards and one touchdown. His TD pass was a 47-yarder to Carroll Dale for the first score of the game.

"Starr called a great game," said Lombardi. "It was a tough day to throw. The ball was slippery, and the receivers couldn't make good cuts."

Lombardi wasn't kidding. It was a miserable day in Packerland. About 3 1/2 inches of snow fell during the morning, and it snowed and rained intermittently during the afternoon as the temperature hovered around 33 degrees.

Yeoman work by the city sanitation department and a crew of youngsters brushed the snow off the tarpaulin so the field was playable by game time. Despite the snow and ice there were no fumbles, and each team scored its first TD on a pass.

Starr hit Dale on the 47-yard score at 3:52 of the first quarter, and Cleveland came right back with a touchdown on a 17-yard pass from Frank Ryan to Gary Collins.

A bad break ruined the

Browns' game plan following that first TD. John Morrow's pass from center was off line and fumbled by Bob Franklin, holding the ball for kicker Lou Groza.

Groza picked it up and fired a desperation forward pass to Franklin, who was caught on the 5-yard line by Willie Wood. Instead of a 7-7 tie, the Browns trailed 7-6.

Groza, the 41-year-old field goal artist who has been playing pro ball since 1946 had made 96 straight conversions until this one was messed up. A few minutes later he kicked a 24-yard field goal that gave Cleveland a 9-7 edge.

Don Chandler, kicking hero of the sudden-death playoff game at Baltimore, booted a 15-yarder early in the second and a 23-yarder later in the quarter after Wood intercepted a Ryan pass and ran it back from the Cleveland 25 to the 10.

Despite Groza's 28-yard field goal in the dying seconds of the half, after Walt Beach had intercepted a Starr pass, the Browns trailed 13-12 at the half.

Green Bay's inspired defense rose to the occasion in the second half and blanked the Browns, shutting out the fabulous Jim Brown who made only 50 yards on 12 carries and scored no touchdowns during the afternoon.

Ray Nitschke did a tremendous job on Brown when he ran and when he went down field as a pass receiver.

The Packers ground it out in the second half, controlling the ball. They moved 90 yards in 11 plays, eating up six minutes, 48 seconds, for a third-period TD scoring on Hornung's 13-yard sweep around left end.

"That really killed us," said Brown after the game. "They adjusted to the conditions. We couldn't. Those two guys (Taylor and Hornung) really did a great job."

Trailing 20-12 in the third period, the Browns got close enough to try for a field goal, but Henry Jordan broke through and blocked Groza's kick. Just a few seconds earlier Nitschke and Wood had broken up a Ryan pass to Brown in the end zone.

Green Bay, setting a record with its ninth league championship, ran 69 offensive plays to 39 by Cleveland. The Packers gained 332 yards over-all to 161 and outgained the Browns on the ground 204 to 64.

Chandler's three field goals tied a title game record shared by six others, including Hornung, Groza and Jerry Kramer. It was a particularly satisfying triumph for the Packers.

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Royals, not discouraged by a 25-point loss to New York Saturday night, bounced back Sunday night and whipped the Baltimore Bullets by 31 points, 138-107.

It was Cincinnati's fifth victory in six games with Baltimore this season and moved the Royals back into second place in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

The New York Knicks trounced the Royals 147-122 in New York Saturday.

Against the Bullets, the Royals had little trouble. They got off to a booming start by building a 21-10 lead with just 2 1/2 minutes gone.

From then on it was a run-away. In the third quarter, the Royals rolled to a 42-point margin, and coach Jack McMahon let his regulars sit out the entire fourth period.

All 11 Royals scored, eight of them in double figures. Adria Smith led the attack with 26 points. Oscar Robertson had 19, Jack Twyman 18 and Jerry Lucas 17.

The Baltimore shooters couldn't find the range. The five starters collected just 28 points among them. Together they got only eight of 50 field goal attempts.

The Royals have a tough schedule this week. They play four games in four cities. They take on the St. Louis Hawks tonight at Memphis, Tenn. On Wednesday, they play the Detroit Pistons in Dayton, and the next night the same clubs meet again in Toledo. The Royals are in Baltimore next Saturday night.

The World Today

By LEWIS CLICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — A couple of ingredients in Hanoi's four-point program on the Viet Nam war make it totally unacceptable to the United States. Until something changes on these, the two sides are not about to sit down at the conference table.

Point one of Hanoi's four points, among other things, for a withdrawal of American forces from South Viet Nam and an end to their attacks on the North.

Point two stipulates neutrality for North and South Viet Nam — no foreign military alliances and no foreign bases or troops there.

Point four proposes peaceful reunification of the divided country to be settled by the Vietnamese people "without any foreign interference."

U.S. diplomats see plenty of room for reaching agreement on points 1, 2 and 4.

As Secretary of State Dean Rusk put it: "We have said that we want no bases in Southeast Asia. We have said that we do not wish to retain U.S. forces in South Viet Nam if there is peace. We have said that the question of reunification is something which the Vietnamese themselves can decide on their own free choice."

But Hanoi's point three is something else. It demands that "the internal affairs of South Viet Nam must be settled by the South Vietnamese people themselves in accordance with the National Liberation Front program, without any foreign interference."

Washington sees this as a demand for imposing the Communist, or "National Liberation Front," program on the South which would amount to a Red takeover there. The United States is committed to prevent this and that is what the fighting is all about.

A second sticking point lies in the terms for any negotiations. Hanoi has never really made it clear on the record whether it insists on U.S. acceptance of its four points as preconditions for talks.

President Johnson has offered unconditional discussions — including conferring on Hanoi's four points but on U.S. proposals, too.

Third parties have hinted from time to time that North Viet Nam was willing to negotiate without preconditions. After following through on these "peace feelers," U.S. diplomats reported Hanoi was in fact demanding its four points as a sole basis for settlement.

Hanoi has been sticking to its four points since Johnson set forth his offer last April. His current peace offensive is probably for a change, at least in willingness to talk unconditionally.

Not an outstanding issue at this time is the question of elections — a point often raised elsewhere by critics of U.S. policy on Viet Nam.

Hanoi's four points contain no call for elections. The United States endorses elections in South Viet Nam. Free-choice elections are not allowed in the Communist North.

Committee Heads To Be Announced

Committee chairman for 1966 will be named when the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors meets Tuesday for its initial session of the year.

Additional business on new president Earl Palm's docket will be the distribution of tickets for the Chamber Annual Meeting on Jan. 20.

Tuesday's session will start at 11:45 a. m. at Pickaway Arms.

Lancaster Unit To Conduct BPO Elks Initiation Here

Circleville BPO Elks Lodge has scheduled an unusual initiation for Tuesday night.

The rendition of the ritual will be given to a class of Circleville candidates by the corps of officers from Lancaster Lodge. Circleville's officers will be on the sidelines.

Marshall Winner, exalted ruler of Circleville Lodge, said that the local corps of officers will return the favor in the near future when it initiates a class in Lancaster Lodge.

Lancaster's officers are headed by George Hedges, exalted ruler; James Christian, leading knight; and Leo Ward, secretary.

Jordan Plans To Build New, Modern Jetport

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Jordan has decided to build a new international airport which could handle most modern jet airliners, Information Minister Abdulhamid Sharaf announced.

He gave no details of its cost or locality. Local press reports said that a French firm has offered to build an airport for $15.4 million. Civil Aviation Director Emile Quobaisi announced agreements have been reached between Jordan and air authorities in London, Paris and Rome for organizing regular air trips between Amman and the three capitals.

TUESDAY'S initiation here is scheduled for 8 p. m. Winner said this would not be a dinner meeting. However, the Lancaster officers will be the guests of local officers at a Circleville restaurant.

Meanwhile, the Circleville officers are going through stiff rehearsals in preparation for the annual district ritualistic contest to be held the weekend of Jan. 15-16. It will be staged on the floor of Lancaster Lodge. Fourteen lodges in the district are eligible to enter the preliminary which will see the winner advance to the state tournament to be held in Columbus in late spring.

Dr. David Goldschmidt and Leo Morgan are coaches for the local team which will be made up of Winner, Gene Lindsey, Robert Huffer, Chester McKenzie, Wendell Emerine, Jack Weikert and John Daugherty. Lodge secretary Forrest Webster and organist Richard Plum are not required to participate in ritualistic contests.
